Vertex Delivers Enhanced Value to Customers with Vertex O Series Tax Engine for Oracle Deployed on Oracle Cloud

Vertex O Series Tax Engine achieves Oracle Validated: Oracle Cloud Infrastructure Expertise and is now available in the Oracle Marketplace

KING OF PRUSSIA, PA, October 15, 2026 — Vertex, Inc. (NASDAQ:VERX) (“Vertex” or the “Company”), the Decision-to-Defense™ global indirect tax and compliance company and an Oracle partner, today announced that its enterprise tax determination engine, Vertex O Series Tax Engine for Oracle, has achieved Oracle Validated: Oracle Cloud Infrastructure Expertise and is now available in the Oracle Marketplace, offering added value to Oracle Cloud customers. The Vertex O Series Tax Engine for Oracle enables centralized, scalable tax determination and calculation across Oracle Cloud ERP and Oracle Cloud SCM environments, giving customers running on Oracle Cloud Infrastructure (OCI) a single source of truth for sales and use tax, VAT and country-specific requirements worldwide.

The Oracle Validated: Oracle Cloud Infrastructure Expertise recognizes partner solutions that run on or integrate with Oracle Cloud and meet Oracle's standards for interoperability and customer success. Vertex O Series Tax Engine for Oracle helps customers reduce manual tax work, improve accuracy, and scale with confidence. In the first seven months following implementation, customers processed an average of more than 150 million transactions per month on OCI, surpassing one billion total transactions, with near push-button setup through the companion Vertex Indirect Tax Accelerator for Oracle Fusion Cloud ERP helping organizations go live faster.

Oracle Marketplace is a centralized digital storefront and cloud repository of enterprise applications and services that enables Oracle customers to discover, evaluate, and deploy trusted partner solutions that extend and complement Oracle Cloud offerings.

"Tax teams running on Oracle Cloud need determination that is accurate, consistent and fast at enterprise volume. Vertex O Series Tax Engine for Oracle delivers that directly within the systems our customers already rely on," said Stephanie Powell, Oracle Partner Manager at Vertex. "Achieving Oracle Validated: Oracle Cloud Infrastructure Expertise demonstrates our commitment to delivering solutions that work seamlessly with Oracle Cloud. Through Vertex O Series Tax Engine customers can confidently leverage our capabilities alongside Oracle Cloud to achieve their business objectives. We look forward to leveraging the power of the Oracle Cloud to help us achieve our business goals."

"The Oracle Validated: Oracle Cloud Infrastructure Expertise gives customers the confidence that Vertex meets or exceeds specified industry and Oracle standards for deploying software applications on OCI," said David Hicks, Group Vice President, ISV Ecosystem, Oracle North America. "Receiving an Oracle Validated designation signifies that the solution has completed a rigorous technical review process, helping customers reduce deployment risk while ensuring optimal technology alignment."

Oracle Validated designation recognizes Oracle partner program members with solutions that run on Oracle Cloud. For partners earning the Oracle Validated: Oracle Cloud Infrastructure, this achievement offers customers confidence that the partner's application is supported by the Oracle Cloud Infrastructure SLA, enabling full access and control over their cloud infrastructure services as well as consistent performance.
